Dr. M. H. Hinsdale.

Kewanee, Ill., advises us of a remarkable cure of Consumption. He says: "A neighbor's wife was attacked with violent lung disease, and pronounced beyond help from Quack Consumption. As a last resort the family was persuaded to try HALL'S BALSAM. To the astonishment of all, by the time she had used one-half dozen bottles she was about the house doing her own work. I saw her at her worst stage, and had no idea she could recover."

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1890.

FOR PRESIDENT,
JAMES A. GARFIELD,
Of Ohio.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
CHESTER A. ARTHUR,
Of New York.

REPUBLICAN NEVADA.

Although it is somewhat early to predict the result of the election in this State in detail, it can truthfully be reckoned that Nevada is safe for the ticket, and by a respectable majority. No canvass has yet been made by either party, but from all that is known on the subject the outlook is very encouraging to all Republicans. We make the following estimate by counties:

	Dem.	Rep.
Lincoln	50
White Pine		60
Eureka		150
Nye	75
Lander	150
Elko	75
Humboldt	100
Churchill	10
Washoe		150
Ormsby	200
Douglas	25
Esmeralda	50
Lyon	150
Storey		400

Total, 480 1185
Republican majority, 705
The majority on the State ticket will not fall short of 1,000. Republican clubs have been formed in nearly all of the prominent towns, and the disposition is everywhere manifested to "pull to win."

GARFIELD'S MAXIMS.

The Republican Congressional Committee is sending out documents at the rate of 200,000 per day. There is a demand for campaign literature never known before. There is going through the press a document that, after it has done its work as a campaign document, will take place among our works of literature. It is a handsome 24-page pamphlet entitled "Garfield's Maxims," and contains epigrammatic sayings culled from all his speeches on various topics, under appropriate classifications. A specimen is the saying, "A pound of pluck is worth a ton of luck." The first edition will be 100,000 copies.

A correspondent of the Carson Times of a few days ago gives the names of several prominent citizens of Virginia, and one member of the last Nevada Legislature, who have repeatedly violated the game laws this season. They have been in the habit of going out into the mountains on "prospecting" trips, but instead of picks and shovels, their outfits consisted of shotguns and ammunition, and the stuff they prospected for had wings and looked very much like sage-hen. The correspondent concludes: "There is in Storey county, I believe, a sportsmen's club, and some of the law violators above named are members of it. I would suggest to the true sportsmen living on the Comstock, whether members of the club or not, that it is their duty to prosecute all who violate the game law."

It is understood that the order abolishing the Department of West Point and transferring Major General Schofield to another command, is held in abeyance until after the election. I was represented to the President that there was a possibility of General Hancock being elected President, in which event he would have to resign his commission as Major General, and then General Schofield would be entitled to the command of the Military Division of the Atlantic. It is not to be understood, it is said, that the President has any doubt about the election of Mr. Garfield; but in this instance he has thought it prudent to recognize the possible contingency, and, therefore, delay action until a later day.

The Imperial Bank of Germany is still paying gold for its notes in Berlin, but not in Bremen or Hamburg. This stoppage of gold payments is sufficiently significant. It need surprise nobody should Germany be forced to resort to silver everywhere as a legal tender. Gold and silver in imperial Germany are not distinguished in the weekly return, but is currently reported that the stock of gold is really very small. A Berlin dispatch to the Post says that apprehensions of impending change in German currency are increasing. It is said that Bismarck favors the introduction of a bi-metallic currency.

After helping the Greenbackers in the Maine campaign General Weaver intends to visit the South again, speaking through the States of Mississippi, Georgia, Texas, Tennessee, Missouri, and closing the canvass in Iowa.

POLITICAL SOUNDINGS.

Stanley Matthews says that Maine will go Republican by a majority of 10,000.

Senator Bayard, of Delaware, will take part in the Democratic campaign in South Carolina.

Senator Logan is to begin speechmaking in Indiana in a few days. So will Attorney General Devens.

Ex-Congressman Burchard, Director of the Mint, who has lately been in Illinois, predicts an overwhelming Republican majority in that State.

There is a strong feeling among the New Hampshire Democrats in favor of nominating Frank Jones for Governor, and they believe they can elect him.

There is in progress a Democratic wrangle in the Kansas City Congressional District, Mo., which gives room for the possibility of a Republican being elected.

Correspondence of the Charleston News and Courier represents that the Democrats are certain to carry North Carolina for the State offices and gain two Congressmen.

Indianapolis Journal:—"General A. D. Streight has been urged to speak at different points, and will enter the campaign next month, making twenty or more speeches."

In Indiana county, the citadel of Greenbackism in Pennsylvania, the larger part of the old Greenback vote is claimed by the Republicans, since there is no third Congressional ticket in the field.

One of the charges against Landers, the Democratic candidate for Governor of Indiana, and one upon which the Republican organs lay a great deal of stress, is that he voted several times while in Congress for the removal of Jefferson Davis' political disabilities.

Congressman John W. Killenger, of the Fourteenth Pennsylvania district declines to be a candidate for renomination in opposition to the claim of Colonel Samuel P. Barr, who is the Republican choice of Dauphin county. It is believed now that Barr will certainly be nominated.

General John A. Logan, after his round of speeches in Maine, thinks that the Republicans will carry the State by "a very decided majority." The people he says, are more enthusiastic than they have been for years and the Republicans are perfectly harmonious. Vermont will give an increased majority.

New Orleans Times:—"In the North Southern orators are making the people acquainted with the views and feelings of the people of the South. What is the Republican party doing toward making the South acquainted with the views and feelings of the North? Absolutely nothing. Which, then, is the sectional and which the national party? The question is not difficult to answer."

Mr. Mosgrove, the Democratic and Greenback candidate for Congress in the Twenty-fifth Pennsylvania district, will, it is said, lose many Democratic votes through the hostile influence of Mr. Guffe, who was last year the regular Democratic nominee. The Republican Greenbackers are also disaffected because of the fusion with the Democrats. For these reasons it is strongly hoped by the regular Republicans that General Harry White, if nominated, will be returned as Representative of the district. He is making a careful and vigorous canvass and is confident of success. The Greenbackers claim that Mosgrove will have a majority of 3,000.

The bullion shipments from Bodie district through Wells, Fargo & Co. during August were as follows: Standard Consolidated, $177,081 69; Bodie Consolidated, $32,547 51; Bulwer Consolidated, $27,936 55; Noonday and North Noonday, $49,088 89; Belvidere, $12,018 41; scattering, $2,365 50. Total, $301,085 50. This is the largest month's shipment made during the present year.

STILL IN THE FRONT.—The rumor that F. A. Trille has withdrawn from the Senatorial fight has no foundation whatever. The Carson Appeal says: James Magee of Virginia City is our authority for the statement that when these rumors were carried to Mr. Trille on his sick bed he only laughed and said, "I'm still in the fight and intend to remain in." The anti-Sharon men feel more encouraged that ever since the Sharon fiasco of last Monday night.

The Greenback party is rapidly being resolved into its constituent elements. In Pennsylvania prominent Greenbackers say that the Republican party gains the largest number of accessions by this process.

S. S. Grass and S. J. Bonzifield, Jr., of Winnemucca have entered into a co-partnership to practice law. They make a pretty strong team, and will practice in all the courts of the State.

Last Week's Casualties.

A man was buried in thought. Many people lost their heads. A great many persons were drowned in tears. Some split their sides, others fell between two stools. Many were riveted to the spot. Several stuck to their posts.

THE REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE TO HIS OLD COMRADES.

Military Family Talk—Bonds that Bind the Soldier of the Past and the Civilian of the Present.

The telegraphic synopsis of General Garfield's address at the reunion of the 42d Ohio Regiment was a very meagre account. From one of our Eastern exchanges we clip the entire speech, as follows:

FELLOW CITIZENS—This is a family gathering, a military family, for in war a regiment is to the army what a family is to the whole civilized community. (Here a portion of the platform fell.) A military reunion without some excitement and some accident would be altogether too monotonous and tame to be interesting, and in this good natured audience we can have a good many accidents like that and still keep quiet and be happy. I said this is a family reunion, an assembly of the old Forty-second military family, and it is well for us to meet here. Nineteen years ago I met a crowd of earnest citizens in that court room above stairs. Your bell was rung; your people came out; the teacher of your schools was among them; the boys of the school were there; and after we had talked together a little while about our country and its imperiled flag, the teacher of the school offered himself to his country and twenty of his boys with him. They never went back into the school house again, but in the dark days of November, 1861, they and enough Ashland county boys to make 100 went down with me to Columbus to join another hundred that had gone before them from Ashland county, and these 200 of your children stood in the centre of our military family and bore these old banners that you see tattered before you to-day. One of them was given to our family by ladies of Ashland, and company C, from Ashland, carried it well. It was riddled with bullets and torn by underbrush. Flapped by winds of the rebellion, it came back tattered, as you see, but with never a strain upon its fold and never a touch of dishonor upon it anywhere, and the other of these banners was given by the special friends of Company A in my old town of Hiram—the student company from the heart of the Western reserve—and it also shared, like its fellows, the same fate and came home covered with the glory of the conflict. We were a family, I say again, and we did not let partisan politics disturb us then and we do not let partisanship enter our circle here to-day. We did not quarrel about controversies outside of our great work. We agreed to be brethren for the Union under the flag against all its enemies every where, and brothers to all men who stood with us under the flag to fight the fight for the Union, whatever their color of skin, whatever their previous politics, whatever their religion. In that spirit we went out; in that spirit we returned, and we are glad to be in Ashland to-day, for it is one of the homes of our regiment, where we were welcomed in the beginning and have always been welcome since.

ALL FOR THE UNION.

We are grateful for the welcome tendered us to-day by this great assembly of our old neighbors and friends of Ashland county. Now, fellow citizens, a regiment, like a family, has the right to be a little clannish and exclusive. It does not deny the right of any other family to the same privileges, but it holds the members of its own family a little nearer and a little dearer than any other family in the world, and so the Forty-second regiment has always been a band of brothers. I do not this day know a Forty-second man in the world who hates another Forty-second man. There never was a serious quarrel inside the regiment. There was never a serious disagreement between its officers. The worst thing I have ever heard said against it is that all its three field officers came home alive, and they are all here on this stand to-day. It was perhaps a little against us that no one of us had the honor to get killed or seriously crippled, but we hold that it was not altogether our fault, and we trust some day or other you will have forgiven us, if you have not to-day for being alive and all here together. I want to say another thing about the soldiers' work. I know of nothing in all the circle of human duty that so unites men as the common suffering and danger and struggle that war brings upon a regiment. You cannot know a man so thoroughly and so soon as by the tremendous tests to which the war subjects him. These men knew each other by sight long before they knew each other by heart, but before they got back home they knew each other as you sometimes say you know a song—by heart. For they had been tested by fire, they had been tested by starvation, they had been tested by the grim presence of death and each knew that those who remained were Union men—men that in all the hard, close chances of life had the stuff in them that enabled them to stand up in the very extremes they did, and stand up ready to die; and such men, so tried and so acquainted, never got over it, and the rest of the world must permit them to be just a little clannish toward each other. The rest of the world will not think that we are narrow when they consider this particular fault of ours. Now, fellow citizens, we are here to look into faces and enjoy your hospitality, to revive our old memories of the place, but for more than anything else to look into each other's faces and revive old memories of a great many places less pleasing and homelike than Ashland. We have been meeting together in this way nearly fifteen years, and have made a pledge to each other that as long as there are two of us left to shake hands, we will meet and greet the survivors. Some of us felt a little hurt about ten years ago when the papers spoke of us as the survivors of the Forty-second regiment. We were the survivors, it is true, but we thought we were so surviving that it need not be put as though we were about to die now. I don't know how it is with the rest of you.

"BOYS" WILL BE BOYS.

Most of mankind grow old and you can see it in their faces. I see here and there a bald head like my own, or a white one like Captain Gardner's but to me these men will be boys till they die. We call them boys; we meet and greet them as boys, even though they become very old boys and in that spirit of young, hopeful, daring manhood we expect to meet them so long as we live. Nothing can get us a great way from each other while we live. I am glad to meet these men here to-day. (Here another portion of the platform broke down, precipitating General Garfield and two or three of the reporters to the ground). I was glad also that there was not anybody hurt when that broke, and nobody made unhappy, and I will conclude all I wanted to say—more than I intended to say—by adding this: These men went out without one single touch of revenge in their hearts. They went out to maintain this Union and make it immortal, to put their own immortal lives into it and make it possible that the people of Ashland should make the monogram of the United States as you see it up there (pointing to the monogram on the building, a wreath with "U.N.I.O.N." inside of a very large N)—a capital N that stands for nation—a nation so large that it includes U. S. A.—all the people of the Republic—and will include it forevermore; that is what we meant then and it is what we mean now. And now fellow-citizens and soldiers of the Forty-second regiment, for I have been talking mainly to you, and if any of this crowd have overheard I am not particularly to blame for it. I say, fellow-citizens and comrades, I greet you to-day with great satisfaction, and bid you a cordial good-by.

Seventeen Kate Benders, fourteen John Benders, two hundred and eighty children Benders and fifteen Maggie Benders have been discovered in Nebraska in the last two weeks. Nine thousand eight hundred and forty-seven Nebraska people kept the old man and woman over night, five thousand gave them a dollar apiece, and forty-eight thousand saw them lying against a haystack, camping in a cornfield or lurking in the bushes. A short time ago half a million people of Nebraska lifted up their voices and sang: "We knew they were the Benders!" but there are only ten or fifteen of them left. The balance have changed their tune. They know all the time that those old tramps were not the Benders. There are, it is said, something like 499,986 liars in Nebraska, which is all we know about the Benders just now.

So far 411 have registered in this precinct.

Grasshopper Scourge.

Investigation shows that our valley is even more thickly "planted" with eggs than at first supposed. Mayberry's ranch at the west end of the valley, escaped the grasshoppers almost entirely this year, but the high land just back of it is now thickly laid with eggs, which looks discouraging for next year. All along down every spot examined on either side of the river, showed that eggs have been profusely laid. Nor are they confined to high and dry spots as generally thought, for they are just as thick in the meadows and plowed land as in the dry, sandy spots. The belt of land below the Arlington Nurseries seems to have more in than any other section of the valley, and as these hatch first, the prospects are anything but pleasant for Jameson, McFarlin, Nay, Lake, Smith, Martin and the other ranchers out that way. Around Glendale, Auburn Mill, and down at Clark's, the same gloomy outlook is reported—nothing but eggs, eggs at every hand. Many of the farmers are feeling blue, and a few will not attempt to raise any crops next year, hoping to starve the pests out. If the hoppers stay here three or four years the loss will be incalculable, and not a few farmers become bankrupt.

McTarnahan's party has just returned from surveying the line to Virginia city. It leaves the Bodie line at Washoe Summit. The branch will be nineteen miles long and the grade eighty-five feet.

The Pyramid Republicans have nominated the following ticket: For Justice of the Peace, J. A. Munro; Road Supervisor, J. C. Watson; School Trustees, C. C. Munro, J. N. Mullin, O. F. Hanson.

Mr. I. H. Ball, one of our best Washoe Valley farmers, was in town yesterday. He is now cutting his second crop, and expects to have a pretty good third one. Glad to hear it.

The Jewish New Year commences next Sunday evening. The observance will continue until Tuesday evening.

The Democratic primaries will be held to-day, and the boys are cocked and primed for a good-natured contest.

Entries for all trotting races, State Fair of 1880, at Reno, close to-morrow.

Sol. Levy is receiving an immense stock of new dry goods.

Hand in your bids for State Fair privileges.

Mrs. Joe Wells is in from Bodie.

From Wadsworth.

Wm. McPherson, J. F. Paige, E. Ollinghouse, J. B. Muhrush, T. G. Herman and T. N. Carey, are the Republican delegates from Wadsworth.

D. Banks McKenzie's lecture Sunday evening, "Past and Future," will be a review of Reno's history and the outlook, and is intended for the encouragement of our citizens generally.

There promises to be a sprightly little struggle to-day at the Democratic primaries between the two candidates for the nomination for County Clerk.

John Hymers and Burt Munroe are the delegates from Pyramid, instructed to vote for Lamb for Sheriff, Everett for Assessor, Fogg for Clerk.

We are indebted to Secretary Elliot for a complimentary ticket to the Chico Fair, which commences Oct. 5th and continues five days.

Mr. Newt. Evans is not a candidate for Sheriff or any other office, and he desires the busybodies to mind their own business.

Mrs. S. Y. Benjamin will organize a class in elocution at the Reform Club entertainment to-night.

PREPARING FOR THE FRAY.

A Meeting of the Republican State Central Committee.

The Republican State Central Committee met at Pioneer Hall at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Chairman Regua stated that, as he would be absent a great deal during the next two months, he wished either to resign or to have somebody elected pro tem. Senator W. R. King, of Lyon county, was thereupon elected Chairman pro tem.

The Secretary was ordered to write to the Congressional Committee for a supply of campaign documents.

The candidates on the State ticket were assessed as follows: Congressman Daggett, $500; Supreme Judge Beatty, $1,000—the money to be paid within two weeks.

C. C. Stevenson was elected Treasurer.

The committee intending to take care of Nevada without calling on the National Committee for money, the Executive Committee was authorized to solicit subscriptions for the purpose of carrying on the campaign. Republicans in office as well as "high privates," will be visited, but nothing in the shape of an assessment is to be exacted of anyone—all contributions will be voluntary.

The Chairman and Secretary will attend to all matters pertaining to printing, except the auditing of bills. On motion of Dr. E. B. Harris, C. C. Stevenson, George I. Lammon and E. Strother were appointed a committee to secure headquarters.

The Committee then went into executive session on "The Good of the Party," when C. S. Varian said he thought steps should at once be taken to secure speakers, and suggested Governor George L. Woods, of California, as a good talker.

W. R. King, of Lyon, thought it would be a good plan to first utilize our home talent, and that in case of any Republican speakers of note passing this way from the East the Executive Committee could extend to them invitations to address the people of the leading towns of the State.

On motion, the Chairman appointed C. S. Varian, E. Strother and W. R. King a committee to obtain speakers. Mr. King, however, resigned and Dr. Lee, of Ormsby, was appointed in his stead.

Persons present being asked to suggest speakers, the following names were handed in: Judge Mesick, B. C. Whitman, W. W. Bishop, C. J. Hillyer, Hon. William Woodburn, F. A. Trille, C. S. Varian, R. H. Taylor, Rev. J. D. Hammond, Hon. J. P. Jones, Judge Hawley, Senator Sharon, Hon. R. M. Daggett, R. H. Lindsay, D. Banks McKenzie, C. C. Powning, W. H. Dickinson, S. S. Grass, M. C. Tilden, Thompson Campbell, J. A. Stephens and quite a number of other well-known and popular speakers.

The delegates were then called upon to give some account of the situation in their respective counties.

Governor Kinkead summed up by saying that he was confident the State was thoroughly Republican, yet the party should get to work all the same. It would not do to sit down and trust to luck.

A resolution, introduced by Dr. E. B. Harris, was adopted, by which the Chairman or Chairman pro tem., and Secretary are authorized to proceed with the work of the campaign, reporting progress to the committee.

Adjourned.

Bardett's Two-Year-Old Boy.

The boy runs about 150 miles a day, and wouldn't quit then if it didn't grow dark. He is very busy. He has all the care of me, and in addition to his regular routine duties, he manages a thousand things no one else would think of. Yesterday morning before ten o'clock, he picked and ate, regardless of maturity of color, a pint of wild strawberries, followed a wagon half a mile down the road, got lost in the woods, choked up the fountain with gravel, fell out of a hammock, stung himself with a bee, ate some strange-looking berries, that his mother knows are deadly poison, played with a mad dog, (his aunt says she knows it was mad), talked to a tramp who came to kidnap him (it was an honest farmer coming into the circus, but the boy's mother and aunt united on the tramp and kidnapper theory), stepped on a red lizard, built a dam, and fell into the brook. I helped him build the dam; in fact, I confess that I built the greater part of it, and enticed the prince to assist, but he fell into the brook himself, and all statements to the effect that I pushed him in, and laughed at him and encouraged him to enjoy it, are simply campaign stories circulated for political effect.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

In consequence of the mediation of Italy, France and England, the governments of Chili and Peru have opened negotiations. A Valparaiso dispatch says that Chili proposes to annex Bolivia and retain Tarapaca until Peru has paid an indemnity for the war.

The two wings of the Democracy of New York city are now thoroughly harmonized. Last Wednesday committees representing the Tammany and Irving Hall organizations held a consultation and agreed upon a satisfactory division of the Assembly districts. General Hancock personally brought about the agreement between Tammany and Faulkner's committee.

Canadian advices respecting the Pacific Railroad state that two syndicates are offering for the entire road, the government to complete that under contract now, and the new company to construct about 2,000 miles, including 645 miles from Lake Nipissing to Thunder Bay, the company to work and maintain the entire road until completion.

Another Grand Speech by General Garfield.

CANTON, Ohio, September 2.

General W. T. Sherman made a brief speech, and General Garfield followed, in answer to the charge often made that a spirit of sectionalism pervades these reunions. He said:

There is nothing more national in all this Republic than the spirit that saved the Union." Continuing, he said: "We fought for the whole Union, and the spirit that animated us with the spirit of nationalism against that of sectionalism. To defend the truths for which we fought is wholly national and is sectional in nothing. It was sectionalism against which we fought, and it was the spirit of nationalism which we defended and which we will defend while we live. Now, therefore, in the presence of these thousands of citizens, and under these flags, we assert the nationality of our cause, embracing within its grasp all the interests of the whole country. What material object is more grandly national than the Mississippi river? Our victory made that the river of one people from Fort Benton far up by the British line, down to the Gulf, and every drop of every wave from the lakes of the Far North goes singing of the Union all the way till it joins a tropical ocean. Our regions sang the songs of the Union along its banks and made the people that inhabited its shores our people. I trust forevermore the great mountain chains that God made are one, and the people of the Government that dwell on their shores and their valleys are like the ocean, are like the everlasting hills, and we believe they will be one forever. Now, soldiers and fellow-citizens, I thank you that we are able to stand together at this late day after our triumph, and rejoice that those who died did not die in vain; that those who lived did not struggle and suffer in vain, and that those old flags which have come back torn with contests are full of the glory with which your valor crowned them. Good-by."
